INTRODUCTION

With the adoption of the new strategy of delivering both Health and Family Welfare Services as an integrated package during the Fifth Five Year Plan period, Government of India recognized the need for an independent agency, which could act as an apex technical institution in the field of Health and Family Welfare. Consequently on March 9, 1977 the National Institute of Health and Family Welfare (NIHFW) came into existence by the merger of two erstwhile autonomous organisations namely National Institute of Family Planning (NIFP) and National Institute of Health Administration and Education (NIHAE), which were established in 1962 and 1964 respectively.

National Institute of Health and Family Welfare is functioning as an autonomous multi-disciplinary Institute funded by the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Government of India. It has been engaged in promotion of Health and Family Welfare in the country through education and training, research and evaluation, advisory, consultancy and other specialized services to meet the challenges emanating from the tenets of health policy and commitment to primary health care.

THE ONE YEAR CERTIFICATE COURSE

There has been a growing recognition of the need to provide management education to health and family welfare personnel at all levels. NIHFW and other State training institutions have been organizing short-term in-service courses to meet the requirement but cannot cope up with the need. Hence, NIHFW with the financial assistance of WHO, made an effort to develop a course through Distance Learning for the District Level Health Administrators and conducted a trial course in close collaboration with the Indian Institutes of Management and other premier health and family welfare institutes in the country under the aegis of National Consortium of Institutions in Health and Family Welfare Management in 1991-92 for 100 students. From 1992-93 onwards NIHFW decided to offer this course on a regular basis. Currently the number of seats available is 300.

DURATION OF THE COURSE

The certificate course is of one year duration. Any candidate who cannot appear or qualify after one year can appear in the subsequent examinations.
